

Momentum General Session 4
“You Wouldn’t Believe Me If I Told You”
National Men’s Director Rick Allen

We as men do not see the amazing truth behind our salvation story. Rick said that we feel like we are living in a rainbow ice cream world and we are vanilla ice cream.

Jesus returns to Capernaum and the house where He is staying is filled to capacity.

Four men bring their paralyzed friend to see Jesus. These men are about to do something most men would not believe, because they were determined to see their friend healed. Too many times, we get right at the threshold of our miracle, and because it looks like there is an obstacle, we stop and miss out.

Question: What are some obstacles that have the potential of causing us to miss out on our miracle?

However, the four friends were not going to be stopped, so they cut a hole in the roof to lower their friend to Jesus.

Question: Why were the four friends so intent on getting their friend to Jesus?

Question: Why do we as men try everything else before we turn to Jesus for the help we need?

Jesus recognized the faith of the crippled man's four friends, and He responded to the need.

Question: As Brothers in Christ, we need to lean on each other's faith.

How can we do better at encouraging each other in our faith?

When we as men allow God to do something through us, we gain attention. But we need to use that attention to shine the glory back on God.

Question: How do we make sure that God receives the glory for the good things He does for us?

Rick said we are on the verge of a movement of men who are willing to get into the Word of God and encourage other men to be disciplined in Christ.

Question: What can each of us do to help facilitate this supernatural move of the Holy Spirit?

God has incredible blessings ahead for us if we will learn to walk daily in faith and obedience. Because when God wants to move, He will move, if you will let Him use you!
